Fall 2012

COURSE TITLE: Postcolonial Literature and Theory: Current British Writing

Instructor: Dr. Pamela McCallum

Office: SS1040

Phone: 403 2208171

E-mail: pmmccall@ucalgary.ca

Office hours: Wednesday 1:30 to 3:30 or by appointment

Course description:

Waves of immigration from the end of World War Two to the present have transformed Britain into a multicultural nation. This course will study some of the writers whose works represent postcolonial Britain. It also examines current questions and issues in postcolonial studies.

Texts and readings:

Sam Selvon, The Lonely Londoners

Leila Aboulela, Minaret

Marina Lewycka, Strawberry Fields

Zadie Smith, White Teeth

Robert Young, A Very Short Introduction to Postcolonialism

Plus fiction held in TFDLibrary.

Assignments and Evaluation:

Take-home assignment: 20%

Group presentation: 20%

Essay: 45%

Blackboard discussion: 5%

Class test: $\frac{10\%}{100\%}$

There is no registrar-scheduled examination in this course.

Due dates for essay and tests are available at the beginning of term, so extensions are not normally given for heavy workload. If you miss an assignment or deadline for a legitimate reason (illness, family crisis), please let me know as soon as possible.

Assignments submitted after the deadline will be penalized, with the loss of a third of a grade (an A- to B+) for each business day (not class) that the assignment is overdue.

Students do not have to complete every assignment to receive a passing grade in the course.

For the group presentation, students will work together in groups of four to five and will normally all receive the same grade.

For the Blackboard assignment, each student will enter one discussion item and one response on the course discussion board. The comments should be about 4-6 sentences long.

Please make every effort to take assignments directly to the instructor. If it is not possible to do so, take your assignment to SS 1152 and put it in the drop-box. Your assignment will be date-stamped and placed in the instructor's mailbox. It is your responsibility to keep a copy of all assignments in case of loss by any cause. Assignments cannot be returned by staff in the Department office.

Grading system:

The course uses the University of Calgary grading system:

A+	95-100 (conversion 97.5)
A	90-94 (92)
A-	85-89 (87)
B+	80-84 (82)
B	75-79 (77)
B-	70-74 (72)
C+	66-69 (67.5)
C	62-65 (63.5)
C-	58-61 (59.5)
D+	54-57 (55.5)
D	50-53 (51.5)
F	0-49 (24.5 or 0 for no submission)

The interpretation of the university system can be found at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/f-2.html>

E-mail and electronics:

E-mail is for emergencies (for instance, missing a test because of illness or family crisis). If you have a question about a text the class is discussing, please ask in class or post it on the Blackboard discussion board. If you want to discuss an essay, please come to office hours or make an appointment.

Electronic devices, other than a laptop or tablet for note-taking, should be turned off during class.

Plagiarism:

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possible suspension or expulsion from the university. Please refer to the following information and make sure you are familiar with the statement below on plagiarism.

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:

- (a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
- (b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
- (c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
- (d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar, (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/j.html>)

“The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, ..., to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community”. The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a “positive and productive learning and working environment.”

This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that “seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff”. Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
