DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH
COURSE OUTLINE

ENGLISH 201, Lecture 01: Approaches to Literature
COURSE TITLE: Hopelessly Devoted to You: Fandoms in Literature
M/W/F 8:00-8:50 SA 121

Winter 2017

Instructor: Ms. Mallory Smith

Office: Social Science 1137
Phone: +1 (403) 220-8656
E-mail: melsmith@ucalgary.ca
Office hours: Wednesdays 1-2pm

Course description: The word “fan” has its origins in the word fanatic, originally used to describe “a person filled with excessive enthusiasm for an extreme political or religious cause” (OED). This course will investigate the excess of loyalty and cult-like devotion that lingers within fandom culture in literature. Beginning with popular works of the 19th century, through to contemporary works, fans hold authors personally accountable for both the creation, and treatment, of their characters, for better and for worse. This course explores what builds, captures, and then sustains the interest of avid readerships, beyond interest in their own times and in the canon of popular imagination.

Texts and readings:

Required:

Jane Austen’s Northanger Abbey, Norton Critical Edition
Charles Dickens’s A Christmas Carol, Oxford World Classics
Sir Arthur Conan Doyle’s Sherlock Holmes (available online through readsherlock.com), and The Hound of the Baskervilles
Lucy Maude Montgomery’s Anne of Green Gables, Broadview Editions
Frank Miller’s Year One: Dark Knight, DC Comics, via Penguin
The Rocky Horror Picture Show, screenplay by Jim Sharman and Richard O’Brien (available online)
Poetry selections from the works of Warsan Shire, Leonard Cohen and Maya Angelou, tbd (available online)

Recommended:

While the tests, final essay, and exam will be based on the assigned readings, discussion that includes adaptations and covers of the works will be at times encouraged to better understand the cultural significance and historical importance of these pieces of literature.

Assignments and Evaluation:

Introductory Essay 10%

This piece of writing, will describe, in 250 words, the student's relationship to one of the required texts or authors on the list, or the student's participation in one fandom community. To be completed in class the first week, and handed in.

Tests 10%

10% of the grade will be assigned for two reading and terminology tests, worth 5% each. These scheduled tests will be fill-in-the-blank, definition-based, or short answers covering the required readings and material covered in lecture.

Short Essay 20%

A short piece with a small research component that either outlines the history of a society, club, forum, etc., or a piece of fan-fiction based on one of the authors or texts on the required reading list. 750 words.

Thesis Statement 5%

In preparation for the final Essay, a thesis statement that will contribute to the work of the long essay must be submitted. 250 words.

Long Essay 25%

1,000-1,500 words paper based on the required texts, and at least one critical work.

Final Exam (scheduled by the Registrar) 30%

No books or notes can be used in the in-class quizzes or the final exam.

Assignment Information:

- Students must be available for examinations up to the last day of the examination period (Apr 15-26). The final exam for the course will be scheduled by the registrar.
- To write the exam, students must pass the term work.
- There are no extra-credit assignments in this course.
- Unless otherwise specified, no electronic submissions of assignments will be accepted.
- All assignments will be written in size 12 Times New Roman font, with double-spacing and margins no larger than 1 inch.
- All assignments must be handed in at the beginning of the class in which they are due. After this, they are considered one day late.

Submission Policy:

Assignments submitted after the deadline will be penalized with the loss of a third of a grade (an A- to B+) for each business day [not class] that the assignment is overdue. No assignments will be accepted one week past the assignment deadline without the prior consent of the instructor.

Please make every effort to take assignments directly to the instructor. If it is not possible to do so, take your assignment to SS 1152 and put it in the English Department dropbox. Your assignment will be date-stamped and placed in the instructor's mailbox. It is your responsibility to keep a copy of all assignments in case of loss by any cause. Assignments cannot be returned by staff in the Department office.

Grading system:

In this course, all essays, exams, and presentations will be marked on the University of Calgary's four-point Grading System, as described in the Calendar:

<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/f-2.html>

A+/A (4.0); A- (3.7); B+ (3.3); B (3.0); B- (2.7); C+ (2.3); C (2.0); C- (1.7); D+ (1.3); D (1.0); F (0)

All quizzes will receive a numerical grade, to be converted using the following scale:

90 + %	A+	4.0
85 – 89 %	A	4.0
80 – 84 %	A–	3.7
77 – 79 %	B+	3.3
74 – 76 %	B	3.0
70 – 73 %	B–	2.7
67 – 69 %	C+	2.3
64 – 66 %	C	2.0
60 – 63 %	C–	1.7
55 – 59 %	D+	1.3
50 – 54 %	D	1.0
0 – 49 %	F	0

Please note that, according to the University Calendar (F.1), instructors may use their discretion when rounding upwards or downwards when the average of term work and exams is between two letter grades.

Although the A+ is solely an honorific that entails no additional points in the 4-point system, the course instructor will employ this mark to distinguish superlative work that exceeds expectations in style, correctness, intellectual depth and breadth, sophistication, and originality.

Schedule

The final Winter Term Class is on Wednesday April 12th, 2017, but check on the student centre site to find your final exam, which will later be scheduled by the registrar.

Plagiarism:

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possible suspension or expulsion from the university. Your responses make a difference - please participate in USRI Surveys."

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:

- (a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
- (b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
- (c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
- (d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar, (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/j.html>) "The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, ..., to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community". The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a "positive and productive learning and working environment." This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that "seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff". Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
