ENGLISH 201 L14

Winter 2019

COURSE TITLE: Approaches to Literature: Shakespeare and/as Comedy

Instructor: Kirsten Inglis

M/W 2:00-3:15pm, ST 127

Office: SS 1126

Phone:

E-mail: kainglis@ucalgary.ca

Office hours: Wednesdays, 9:30-10:30 am

Course description: This course approaches a historically broad range of texts and considers various forms of literature, including comedy, satire, parody, and farce. Students will read Shakespearean comedies and adaptations of Shakespeare's work that engage with humour or comedy as a structuring principle. The class will consider the social and political implications of comedic genres, particularly the way in which comedy is both a product and process of gender politics. We will also trace historical shifts in ideas about humour and its role in the arts and humanities. Students will learn to read texts closely and critically and will consider how comedy and literary adaptation allow writers to explore pressing socio-political and philosophical questions.

Antirequisite(s): English 203.

Notes: English Majors should begin their studies with English 203 and 205.

Texts and readings:

Shakespeare, As You Like It, Oxford Shakespeare.

Shakespeare, Twelfth Night, Oxford Shakespeare.

Stoppard, Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead, Faber.

MacDonald, Goodnight Desdemona (Good Morning Juliet), Vintage Canada.

Pratchett, Wyrd Sisters, Corgi.

Selected supplemental readings will be available online and in D2L

Recommended:

MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers (8th edition)

Assignments and Evaluation:

Participation	5%
Group Project	15%
Critical Reflection Essay	15%
Research Essay	25%
Midterm	15%
Final Exam	25%

Assignment Descriptions:

Participation

5%

- The participation grade for this course will be assigned based on the completion of 5 “minute papers” to be written and handed in during class time. Papers will respond to a specific prompt and will be graded on a complete / non-complete basis. Students may miss one “minute paper” during the semester without penalty. For this reason, there will be no opportunity to make up or be excused from any minute papers.

- Students will be assigned groups of 4-5 and a presentation date (March 11-27)
- Students will deliver a presentation (20 minutes) on a contemporary comedic Shakespearean adaptation of their choice. Works can be literary, visual, or audiovisual.
- Students must analyze the socio-political contexts of the work and the technical features of humour employed in the work.
- Students will receive a common grade for the presentation. Any students absent on the day of their group’s presentation or who do not contribute substantively to the project will receive a grade of ‘F’. For this reason, it is suggested that students document their contributions to and communication with their group.
- Research is required for this presentation, and the group must hand in an annotated bibliography of sources used.

Critical Reflection Essay (750 words)

15%

- Students will write a 750-word critical reflection essay on an assigned passage or reading.
- Specific guidelines will be distributed in class.

Research Essay (1500 words)

25%

- Essay topics will be provided for this assignment.
- You will write a 1500-word essay on ONE of the assigned topics, incorporating specific textual examples from primary readings and secondary (research) sources.

Midterm

15%

- This exam will be closed book and will be written in class.
- The midterm will cover texts studied up to the date of the exam.
- The midterm may consist of short answer, fill in the blank, and/or passage analysis questions.

Registrar-scheduled Final Exam

25%

- The exam will be closed book and will be scheduled by the registrar’s office.
- The exam will be multiple choice.
- The exam will be cumulative (cover all material from the beginning of the semester).

Notes:

- This course WILL have a registrar scheduled final exam. Students must be available for examinations up to the last day of the examination period (April 15-April 27, 2019).
- There are no extra credit assignments for this course.

- Students must complete all hand-in assignments (not including participation and exams) to be eligible for a passing grade in the course.
- Unless otherwise specified in assignment instructions, all assignments are to be submitted to the D2L dropbox for this course. Assignments will be due on or before MIDNIGHT of the due date. Assignments submitted after this time will be subject to the following late penalties:
 - ❖ Assignments submitted after the deadline will be penalized with the loss of a third of a grade (for example, an A- to B+) for each business day [not class] that the assignment is overdue.
 - ❖ Assignments submitted after the due date will be graded, but will not have feedback provided.
 - ❖ No assignments will be accepted one week past the assignment deadline without the prior consent of the instructor.

It is your responsibility to keep a copy of all assignments in case of loss by any cause.

Grading system: Grading system:

In this course, all assignments and exams will be marked on the University of Calgary’s four-point Undergraduate Grading System, as described in the Calendar:

<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/f-2.html>

A+/A (4.0); A- (3.7); B+ (3.3); B (3.0); B- (2.7); C+ (2.3); C (2.0); C- (1.7); D+ (1.3); D (1.0); F (0)

All assignments will receive letter grades. The midterm and final exam will receive a numerical grade, to be converted using the following scale:

90 + %	A+	4.0
85 – 89 %	A	4.0
80 – 84 %	A–	3.7
77 – 79 %	B+	3.3
74 – 76 %	B	3.0
70 – 73 %	B–	2.7
67 – 69 %	C+	2.3
64 – 66 %	C	2.0
60 – 63 %	C–	1.7
55 – 59 %	D+	1.3
50 – 54 %	D	1.0
0 – 49 %	F	0

Please note that, according to the University Calendar (F.1), instructors may use their discretion when rounding upwards or downwards when the average of term work and exams is between two letter grades.

Although the A+ is solely an honorific that entails no additional points in the 4-point system, the course instructor will employ this mark to distinguish superlative work that exceeds expectations in style, correctness, intellectual depth and breadth, sophistication, and originality.

Email Policy:

I encourage students to correspond with me through email. I will answer email correspondence within 48 hours, but only during business hours (i.e. Mon-Fri, 9-5). That means if you send me a question on Friday evening about your assignment due Monday morning I will not be able to answer it in time. Please plan your assignments ahead of time in order to avoid such situations.

Laptop and cell phone policy:

On occasion, I will ask you to use mobile devices in order to answer discussion questions in class.

Otherwise: Laptops are permitted in class if used to take notes or for other course-related purposes only. I reserve the right to ask you to put your laptop away if you are causing a distraction to other students in any way. There is no need to use cell phones in class. Turn them off or set them to 'silent' and put them away.

Plagiarism:

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possible suspension or expulsion from the university. Please refer to the following information and make sure you are familiar with the statement below on plagiarism.

Your responses make a difference - please participate in USRI Surveys."

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:

- (a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
- (b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
- (c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
- (d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

<http://www.dianahacker.com/resdoc/>

<http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/747/01/>

Students who are absent from class assessments (tests, participation activities, or other assignments) should inform their instructors as soon as possible. Instructors may request that evidence in the form of documentation be provided. If the reason provided for the absence is acceptable, instructors may decide that any arrangements made can take forms other than make-up tests or assignments. For example, the weight of a missed grade may be added to another assignment or test. For information on possible forms of documentation, including statutory declarations, please see <https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/n-1.html>.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar, <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/j.html>

“The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, ..., to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community”. The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a “positive and productive learning and working environment.” This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that “seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff”. Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
