WINTER 2013

COURSE TITLE: Fundamentals of Literary Study: Fiction

Instructor: Dr. Pamela McCallum with Kelsey Moskal, Michael Khmelnitsky, Jasmine Elliot and Carly Stewart

Office: Social Sciences 1040

Phone: 403 220-8171

E-mail: pmmccall@ucalgary.ca

Office hours: Wed. 1:30 -3:30

Course description:

This course is an introduction to strategies for analyzing and interpreting narrative texts. Examples from both nineteenth-century literature (Shelley) and twentieth-century (Winterson, Kunzru and the short story writers) will be studied.

The course has two major goals. First, it explores technique for analyzing literary texts and examines some of the theoretical concepts behind them. The emphasis is on critical thinking and the application of analytical techniques to literary texts. Second, the course teaches basic strategies for writing essays.

If you have any questions or comments about the course, I am happy to discuss them with you. You may visit during office hours or make an appointment. You should first discuss any questions with your tutorial leader. S/he is available to help with your reading and interpretation, with essay writing and with other questions about the course S/he does the marking for the course; if you have questions about your mark, your tutorial leader can answer them or refer you to me.

Texts and readings:

Jeanette Winterson, The Passion

Mary Shelley, Frankenstein

Hari Kunzru, Transmission

Plus readings specified on Blackboard

Assignments and Evaluation:

Important, please note: All assignments must be completed for a passing grade in the course.

1. First essay (value: 15%)

2. Second essay (value: 25%)

3. Mid-term test (value: 20%)

4. Participation and Blackboard (value: 10%)

You should come to the tutorial having read the texts and participate in discussions. This part of the grade recognizes that knowledge is created collectively and that everyone benefits from the participation of tutorial members. The course uses Blackboard to post announcements, provide information, respond to questions and discuss the texts we read. Check Blackboard every few days and participate in the on-line discussions. You access Blackboard through the My U of C. portal. You will also have short (4-6 sentences) homework assignments during the course. You must do three of the homework offerings.

5. Final examination scheduled by the registrar during the period designated for examinations in the 2012-2013 University Calendar. This year the period is April 19 - 30. (Value: 30%)

→ Students must be available for examinations up to the last day of the examination period.

Deadlines:

Due dates for essay and tests are available at the beginning of term, so extensions are not normally given for heavy workload. Assignments submitted after the deadline will be penalized (with the loss of a third of a grade (an A- to B+) for each business day [not class] that the assignment is overdue.

Please make every effort to give assignments directly to your seminar leader. If it is not possible to do so, take your assignment to SS 1152 and put it in the drop-box. Your assignment will be date-stamped and placed in the instructor's mailbox. It is your responsibility to keep a copy of all assignments in case of loss by any cause. Assignments cannot be returned by staff in the Department office.

E-mail:

E-mail is for emergencies (for instance, missing a test because of illness). If you have a question about a text the class is discussing, please ask in class or post it on the Blackboard discussion board. If you want to discuss an essay, please come to office hours or make an appointment.

Grading system:

The final grade will be in the letter form used by the University of Calgary. The conversion between percentages, letter grades and grade point averages is the following:

| | | |
|-----------|----|-----|
| 90 + % | A+ | 4.0 |
| 85 – 89 % | A | 4.0 |
| 80 – 84 % | A– | 3.7 |
| 77 – 79 % | B+ | 3.3 |
| 74 – 76 % | B | 3.0 |
| 70 – 73 % | B– | 2.7 |
| 67 – 69 % | C+ | 2.3 |
| 64 – 66 % | C | 2.0 |
| 60 – 63 % | C– | 1.7 |
| 55 – 59 % | D+ | 1.3 |
| 50 – 54 % | D | 1.0 |
| 0 – 49 % | F | 0 |

The University of Calgary's four-point Undergraduate Grading System, as described in the Calendar (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/f-2.html>), will be used in this course.

A+/A (4.0); A- (3.7); B+ (3.3); B (3.0); B- (2.7); C+ (2.3); C (2.0); C- (1.7); D+ (1.3); D (1.0); F (0)

Please note that, according to the University Calendar (F.1), instructors may use their discretion when rounding upwards or downwards when the average of term work and exams is between two letter grades.

Although the A+ is solely an honorific that entails no additional points in the four-point system, the course instructor will employ this mark to distinguish superlative work that exceeds expectations in style, correctness, intellectual depth and breadth, sophistication, and originality.

Plagiarism:

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possible suspension or expulsion from the university. Please refer to the following information and make sure you are familiar with the statement below on plagiarism.

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:
 - (a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
 - (b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
 - (c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
 - (d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar, (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/j.html>)

“The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, . . . , to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community”. The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a “positive and productive learning and working environment.” This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that “seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff”. Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
