Course Description: This is an examination of the relationship of literature to the world around us (society), with instruction in close reading and logical critical writing. As a class we will consider how literature as a cultural practice responds to and reflects intertextual social contexts. Therefore, this course is designed to introduce students to critical reading, writing processes, and discourse (conversations) required at the University of Calgary and the collegiate level. This course emphasizes how to read a text critically and how to write clear logical researched (supported) persuasive arguments centering literature. Our content is loosely themed to center speculative fiction by BIPOC (Black/Indigenous/People of Colour) writers to encompass a depth and breadth across histories, locations, gender expressions and sexualities, race/ethnicity, and time. As a class we will move from lectures on Aristotelian (4th c) and Indigenous Rhetorics (20th c) to literature on alternate histories across the 19th and 20th centuries in Canada, US, Mexico, and Lebanon, as well futurisms within Turtle Island. Thematically we will explore speculative fiction as an umbrella super-genre including genres of horror/thriller, multi-dimensional/multi-realities, syfy/fantasy, and futurism. Across mediums of print, film, and digital media, we will explore ways characters, landbases, cultures (from Indigenous peoples on Turtle Island, to African, Arab, and Asian diasporas), languages, decolonization, settler colonialism, histories, and relationships speak to the world around us—past, present, and future. Specifically we will read textual/cross-textual and intertextual dialogues for themes of: 1) Settler Colonialism/Imperialism/Colonization; 2) Health/Wellness (physical, mental, spiritual); 3) Gender/Sexualities/2SQ; 4) Capitalism, Labour and Slavery; 5) TEK (traditional educational knowledge) and STEM (science/tech/engineering/math); 6) Environment/Ecologies/Land; 7) Family/Community; 8) Race/Racism/Ethnicity and Xenophobia; 9) Memory/Consciousness; 10) Education/Knowledge-making/Teaching.

1 Please note your professor, like yourselves, has multiple obligations and is currently in another time-zone for a familial medical emergency. This means scheduled times for meetings and email will be adhered to by the instructor. All times listed are Mountain Time.
As a community, we will seek to create conversations highlighting how “literature/text” “stories” and “fiction” reflects deeper epistemologies (knowledge-making systems) to influence how we think/imagine about literature (written, visual, oratory etc) and how these texts both create (rhetoric structures) meaning and how we make meaning from these texts (rhetorics or meaning-making). This course builds student abilities in invention, drafting, and revising through the practice of writing, while emphasizing analytical engagement with text through close reading, research, and class discussion. As a class we will work on constructing various types of argumentation, building critical vocabulary, and editing processes that allow students to interact as a community through literature. Along with developing persuasive writing skills, the course emphasizes formal research methods, documentation techniques, and quotation/paraphrase management skills. This class is conducted both synchronous and asynchronous, attention to the weekly schedule is paramount and the ability to self-direct, attend listed lectures/discussion meetings, and complete asynchronous materials and class assignments are paramount.

Course Learning Outcomes and Objectives and Expectations:

Students will be responsible for course readings, expanding vocabulary, homework, presentations, writing and research assignments, and a final essay paper. As a class we will use a variety of texts to develop writing, cultural, and historic knowledge, and research skills. This will cumulate in a final essay project.

- Students will learn to read for “thoughtful, critical analysis of a text that focuses on significant details or patterns in order to develop a deep, precise understanding of the text's form, craft, meanings” (i.e close reading).
- Students will engage with literature/texts as a response to BIPOC knowledges, places/landbases, gender/sexuality, colonization, environmental, and as a reflection of specific historic movements and moments.
- Students will learn to read for textual, intertextual, and cross textual dialogues around the 10 themes listed in the syllabus.
- Students will reflect on connections between epistemologies (knowledges) and story-making.
- Understand the various persuasive appeals connected to the rhetorical triangle-- ethos, pathos, logos, and kairos--and use them to generate persuasive/critical arguments.
- Understand the constructs of the 5 Rhetorical Cannons--invention, arrangement, style, Memory, Audience/Delivery--and use them to generate persuasive/critical arguments.
- Develop inquiry strategies and research concepts through the use of the university library and determine appropriate materials for the rhetorical situation.
- Develop personalized note taking strategies. Synchronous classes are not recorded, so please come prepared as you would to any in person class ready to record notes on your preferred method.
- Develop inquiry strategies through the use of the Internet and determine appropriate materials for the rhetorical situation.
- Critically analyze scholarly reading materials and literatures.
- Integrate ideas and concepts from scholarly reading materials into their own work.
- Apply MLS documentation and citation and recognizing plagiarism.
- Control surface features of their writing such as syntax, grammar, punctuation, and spelling.
- A digital copy of all assignments is expected in class on the due date on D2L
- All written essays and formal papers must be in MLA style explicitly. 12pnt times new roman font.
- Papers will turned in as word.docx or rich text format (RTF). Doc ONLY. If you are unable to turn in your assignment as stated above, please see me after class.
- All students are required to fully participate in class discussions. Students who miss or do participate in class writing or group work will not earn participation credit.

REQUIRED TECHNOLOGY: This is a synchronous M/W web-based course, with Monday/Wednesday sessions synchronous discussion and lecture and 50min of class material each week.
to be completed asynchronous (not always) held via D2L Notes, Discussion boards, Recordings, Group work, and/or Quizzes delineated in the weekly class schedule posted on D2L. All readings, assignments, and due dates are listed explicitly in the Weekly Class Schedule posted on D2L. As this is a web-based course, it means you MUST have a computer device with reliable/stable internet connection, webcam, and microphone. Your internet, webcam/video, and microphone/audio are required. Synchronous classes are not recorded, so please come prepared as you would to any in person class ready to record notes on your preferred method.

Major Assignments and Evaluations:

1) Vocabulary and Concepts Test: Short answer on technical terms and techniques involved in reading and writing about literature. Exam will be on D2L. Vocabulary quiz opens D2L 11 pm October 16 to 11 pm October 19 15%

2) Digital Midterm: You will be responsible for an OPEN BOOK Online D2L midterm exam. Midterms will be held during the 7th week and will comprise all material read, assigned, and discussed/lectured in class to that point. We will hold an in class review the week before the test. Your mid-term exam will be a combination of short answer and true/false. We will go over the midterm closer to the date of the exam. Midterm opens D2L 11 pm October 23 to 11 pm October 25 15%

3) Late Mid-term Empathy Map Exercise: Each student will prepare a minimum 1000 word Empathy Map written and visual exercise (assignment details posted on D2L) for one text discussed in class. Your Empathy map Writing Assignment Accepted 11/4-11/13 8pm 15%

4) Final Comparative Empathy Map: Each student will construct a comparative empathy map expanding and exploring their first Empathy Map with a second text speculative fiction text (inclusive of gender, sexuality, race/ethnicity, religion, economics etc) chosen by the student. Your comparative empathy map comprising 2000-2500 words should include a critical supported persuasive analysis of one of the readings from class and a text chosen by the student. Full assignment instructions will be provided. Final comparative Empathy maps and exegesis Accepted 12/10-12/15 5pm. No assignments will be accepted after 5pm 12/15 30%

5) Final Exam: You will be responsible for a registrar Open book Final exam. Finals will be held during the Registered Final Exam session and be open book comprising all material read, assigned, and discussed/lectured in class. We will hold an in class review the week before the test. Your final exam will be a combination of short answer, fill in the blank, and close reading response. We will review and go over the final closer to the date of the exam. Students must be available for examinations up to the last day of the examination period December 10 – December 21, 2022.

Grading Rubrics: The Instructor supplies detailed rubrics with each major assignment as well as a general writing rubric for student referral on D2L.

INSTRUCTOR GUIDELINES (ZOOM; In-Person; and D2L Sessions) Students requiring assistance are encouraged to speak to the instructor during class or their office hours. Should you wish to meet outside of office hours, please email to make an appointment. It is to the student’s advantage to keep such appointments. All meetings will be held virtually. This is a synchronous/asynchronous web-based course, with Monday/Wednesday sessions synchronous discussion and lecture and additional class material mostly (not always) held asynchronous via D2L Notes, Discussion boards, Recordings, Group work, and/or Quizzes delineated in the weekly class schedule posted on D2L. cannot make office hours, please request a one-on-one meeting outside of these hours, to be held virtually.

To help ensure Zoom sessions are private, do not share the Zoom link or password with others, or on any social media platforms. Zoom links and passwords are only intended for students registered in the course. Zoom recordings and materials presented in Zoom, including any teaching materials, must not be shared, distributed or published without the instructor’s permission. The use of video conferencing programs relies on participants to act ethically, honestly and with integrity; and in accordance with the principles of fairness, good faith, and respect (as per the Code of Conduct). When entering Zoom or other video conferencing sessions (such as MS Teams), you play a role in helping create an effective, safe and respectful learning environment. Please be mindful of how your behaviour in these sessions may affect others. Participants are required to use names officially associated with their UCID (legal or preferred names listed in the Student Centre) when engaging in these activities. Instructors/moderators can remove those whose names do not appear on class rosters. Non-compliance may be investigated under relevant University of Calgary conduct policies (e.g Student Non-Academic Misconduct Policy). If participants have difficulties complying with this requirement, they should email the instructor of the class explaining why, so the instructor may consider whether to grant an exception, and on what terms. For more information on how to get the most out of your Zoom sessions visit: https://elearn.ucalgary.ca/guidelines-for-zoom/. If you are unable to attend a Zoom session, please contact your instructor to arrange an alternative activity for the missed session (e.g., to review a recorded session). Please be prepared, as best as you are able, to join class in a quiet space that will allow you to be fully present and engaged in Zoom sessions. Students will be advised by their instructor when they are expected to turn on their webcam (for group work, presentations, etc.).

Classroom Decorum and Respect
Students and the instructor will seek to foster a community environment that is conducive to scholarly dialogue. This means respect of your peers and instructor is MANDATORY. Respect includes but is not limited to: NO CELL PHONE USE (THIS INCLUDES TEXTING), carrying on conversations while someone is speaking, reading non-class material in class, using gender biased, homophobic, transphobic, classiest, sizest, ageist, and/or racially biased language, and unapproved electronic devices (i.e. devices not used to engage with class or used in a way to circumvent class- i.e. using your ipad or phone on social media when we are examining a digital text).

Participation
Participation as university scholars working together to better our understanding of both historic and contemporary issues, cultural sustainability, and critical engagement with and by BIPOC peoples is imperative to learning and mastering the process of interdisciplinary studies within the Humanities. Participation consists of visual/mental presence in class (i.e. on camera); clarifying content questions, and/or questions that require students to apply what they have learned and/or read for class. Students will be graded on their participation in the discussions as well as the quality of their responses. Coming to class prepared (books, homework, writing utensils, web camera, microphone) also qualifies as participation. Only students present (visual AND audio-on Zoom) for the discussion will be given the points. Your participation is mandatory for your individual academic growth and our collective growth as scholars dialoguing our knowledge. Community is key in all things. This classroom is a community setting. For our community to function we must be beholden to reciprocity. Class Attendance, Discussion, and Participation is 5% of your grade.

Essays and Paper format: All writing assignments SHOULD engage analytic responses and be MLA formatted (a process we will review in class), following MLA format layout and citation/works cited formats. Your instructor will give detailed instructions before each essay assignment. All assignments will be posted on D2L as will MLA notes and resources.
Revision Policy etc.: Please note: I do not allow revisions towards or on submitted and evaluated graded papers. I do meet with students to go over paper drafts, ideas, and research, or to revise an already graded paper towards an expanded, revised, final draft. There is no extra credit in this course.

LATE PENALTIES: Late assignments (other than the Final paper) will be penalized with the loss of a third of a grade (an A- to B+) for each business day [not class] that the assignment is overdue. EX: A paper three days late that on time would have earned a score B/76 will earn a score of C/62.

ATTENDANCE: Your attendance at every synchronous class meeting is required to earn full participation which is 5% of your grade. Attendance participation means explicitly: Coming to class prepared (books, homework, writing utensils, web camera, microphone), with reliable internet connection, also qualifies as participation. Only students present (visual AND audio on zoom and on return in person class) for the discussion will earn the points. In an effort to maintain class participation and attendance, classes will NOT be recorded to view at your leisure. If you are absent, please make arrangements to get notes or meet with the professor to discuss material missed. This class is predicated on community conversations of material. Absences should be saved for illness, conferences, religious observances, funerals, family/cultural/community events that require your attendance, court dates, and job interviews. Should a medical or family emergency arise that will require your absence in excess of missing three classes, please notify me as soon as possible. The instructor reserves the right to drop your final grade one letter grade if you miss more than Four classes without notifying the instructor of serious illness or other serious complication(s) prior to the absences or asap after an emergency. More than four (4) absences could result in dropping your final grade one letter (i.e. A to B; C to D). Any medical complications should be addressed, and arrangements made with the instructor. If a conflict arises between your obligation to attend class and an obligation to the university, personal, family, or community obligations it is your responsibility to see me in advance, hand in all assignments, and to make up work missed during your absence. I will happily work with you so we can find a way to success in the course, but communicating will be key.

Digital D2L Midterm: You will be responsible for an OPEN BOOK Online D2L midterm exam. Midterms will be held during the 7th week and will comprise all material read, assigned, and discussed/lectured in class to that point. We will hold an in class review the week before the test. Your mid-term exam will be a combination of short answer and true/false. We will go over the midterm closer to the date of the exam. Midterm opens d2l October 11; 11pm –October 14, 11pm Once you log-on to start the midterm students will have a three-hour window to finish the 30 2pt each question exam and essay question (40pnt), which will be distributed a week before the exam opens. The 48 hour window to choose a start day and the three-hour exam time limit, (once the exam is started), allows ample time for students who need extra test time, have test anxiety, etc.; while allowing students the opportunity to take the exam in an environment most comfortable to them: home, work, computer lab etc. We will go over the midterm and final closer to the date of the exam.

D2L Registrar-Scheduled Final Exam: Students will be responsible for an OPEN BOOK Online D2L registrar-scheduled exam. Students will have 24 hour window, starting at the Registrar’s designated time, to complete the exam, and will receive a 50% time bonus to complete the work. Students can then start the exam clock as convenient within the 24 hour window and will have an allotted 2 hours plus an additional bonus (50%) hour to finish the open book exam on D2L under the registrar. We will go over the final closer to the date of the exam.

7 For students who may need more accommodation and have documentation from student access, please see me for arrangements.

Electronic Devices: As many of our materials are available as both print and digital (often cheaper as ebooks), Students are allowed to use digital devices (computers/phones/tablets) for class material in good faith. This does not mean digital devices are allowed for personal, other courses, or “checkin out.” Students who abuse the good faith policy will no longer be allowed access to these devices and/or your participation will be considered compromised. Phones should be on silent for both calls and messages. However, IF a student is expecting an emergency call: i.e. child, family, partner, pet illness; job on-call/interview— You are asked to notify me at the start of class and excuse yourself if an emergency call comes through. Students who text/message outside of this policy will be redirected. Note, your professor has no shame in “callin you out” for misuse of digital devices 😊😊

Plagiarism:

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:
   a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
   b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
   c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
   d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student’s work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

http://owl.english.purdue.edu/OWL/resource/747/01/
Students who are absent from class assessments (tests, participation activities, or other assignments) should inform their instructors as soon as possible. Instructors may request that evidence in the form of documentation be provided. If the reason provided for the absence is acceptable, instructors may decide that any arrangements made can take forms other than make-up tests or assignments. For example, the weight of a missed grade may be added to another assignment or test. For information on possible forms of documentation, including statutory declarations, please see https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/m-1.html.

INSTRUCTOR'S INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY
Course materials created by instructors (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the instructor. These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the instructor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the course at the same time may be allowed under fair dealing.
FREEDOM OF INFORMATION AND PROTECTION OF PRIVACY
Student information will be collected in accordance with typical (or usual) classroom practice. Students’ assignments will be accessible only by the authorized course faculty. Private information related to the individual student is treated with the utmost regard by the faculty at the University of Calgary.

COPYRIGHT LEGISLATION
All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright (https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/acceptable-use-of-material-protected-by-copyright-policy.pdf) and requirements of the copyright act (https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng acts/C-42/index.html) to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorised sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html.

MEDIA RECORDING (if applicable)
Please refer to the following statement on media recording of students: https://elearn.ucalgary.ca/wp-content/uploads/2020/05/Media-Recording-in-Learning-Environments-OSP_FINAL.pdf

Media recording for lesson capture
The instructor may use media recordings to capture the delivery of a lecture. These recordings are intended to be used for lecture capture only and will not be used for any other purpose. Although the recording device will be fixed on the Instructor, in the event that incidental student participation is recorded, the instructor will ensure that any identifiable content (video or audio) is masked, or will seek consent to include the identifiable student content to making the content available on University approved platforms.

Media recording for self-assessment of teaching practices
The instructor may use media recordings as a tool for self-assessment of their teaching practices. Although the recording device will be fixed on the instructor, it is possible that student participation in the course may be inadvertently captured. These recordings will be used for instructor self-assessment only and will not be used for any other purpose.

Media recording for the assessment of student learning
The instructor may use media recordings as part of the assessment of students. This may include but is not limited to classroom discussions, presentations, clinical practice, or skills testing that occur during the course. These recordings will be used for student assessment purposes only and will not be shared or used for any other purpose.

SEXUAL VIOLENCE POLICY
The University recognizes that all members of the University Community should be able to learn, work, teach and live in an environment where they are free from harassment, discrimination, and violence. The University of Calgary’s sexual violence policy guides us in how we respond to incidents of sexual violence, including supports available to those who have experienced or witnessed sexual violence, or those who are alleged to have committed sexual violence. It provides clear response procedures and timelines, defines complex concepts, and addresses incidents that occur off-campus in certain circumstances. Please see the policy available at https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/sexual-violence-policy.pdf

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar; https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-2.html
“The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, …, to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community”. The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a “positive and productive learning and working environment.” This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that “seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff”. Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
