COURSE DESCRIPTION:
This course will consider the various ways in which writers have represented generational relationships, from those between parents and children, to grandparents, to family legacies, to long, intergenerational traditions and traumas. In these texts, people are brought together, but also separated by borders, oceans, conflicts, illnesses, and grudges. Students will be exposed to a variety of writers (fiction, non-fiction, and poetry) exploring what their/their characters’ ancestry means in the context of broader political and personal concerns. Students will learn skills in close reading and critical thinking. An emphasis will be placed on clear and concise University-level essay writing.

PREREQUISITES: There are no pre-requisites for this course.

ONLINE/REMOTE LEARNING: This course will take place online via Desire2Learn (D2L) and Zoom. To best succeed in the course, students are encouraged to participate in the asynchronous learning tasks using the D2L learning environment and synchronous Zoom sessions. When unable to participate live due to the time difference or unforeseen circumstances, inform the instructor in advance and propose and implement an alternative participation activity (e.g., watch the recordings, submit a brief reflection, and actively contribute to the follow-up online discussion).

A combination of synchronous and asynchronous delivery will be used in this course. Synchronous Zoom sessions will occur on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays (from 9AM-11:15AM) throughout the term as indicated on the course schedule. Each of these sessions will be recorded. Tutorials with CBE Supervising Teacher will occur on Wednesdays (9AM-11:50AM), and MTRF (from 12PM-12:50PM).
Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Perform close readings of texts and secondary sources;
2. Demonstrate an ability to analyze and discuss the formal aspects of a text;
3. Write strong, well-supported, clearly written academic essays;
4. Evaluate and assess the applicability of secondary sources;
5. Consider and analyze the work of numerous writers through course readings;
6. Develop editorial skills applicable to essay writing.

The following texts are required for this course:

Between the World and Me, Ta-Nehisi Coates
The Metamorphosis, Franz Kafka (Susan Bernofsky translation)
Monkey Beach, Eden Robinson

The Boy & the Bindi, Vivek Shraya

Please Note: Supplementary online texts (reviews, scholarly criticism, and interviews) will be posted to D2L. A detailed Reading Schedule will be circulated as a separate document.

Please see individual assignment documents for a detailed breakdown of assignment expectations, objectives, and grading rubrics.

Creative Writing Response (10%)

Students are required to complete one 500-word creative writing response in the first half of the semester. This assignment will help students practice reading comprehension, textual analysis, and writing skills to prepare for the larger Essay assignment. Details pertaining to what constitutes a creative writing response will be discussed in class.
Annotated Response (20%): Students will write one 500-word response to a secondary source made available on D2L, evaluating the success and relevance of this critical text on the basis of its argument and organization. Specific details related to this assignment will be outlined in lecture. Students will be asked to complete asynchronous practice responses in advance of this submission.

Book Review (20%): Students will compose a 500-word book review of one of the novels discussed this term. Examples of book reviewing (and of what constitutes good book reviewing practice) will be outlined in lecture. Students will be asked to complete asynchronous practice reviews in advance of this submission.

Close-Reading Essay (30%): Students will write one 1250-word essay that will establish a concrete and arguable thesis based upon course readings. These papers will adhere to MLA format. MLA format and research methodology expectations will be addressed in lecture.

Final Take-Home Assignment (20%): The final take-home assignment will consist of an essay-style question based on our course theme. Students will be required to write about a minimum of 3 texts studied this term.

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION EXPECTATIONS

Students are expected to attend class regularly and to be fully present and engaged in class activities and discussions. Readings must be completed in advance of lecture, according to the Reading Schedule.

Additional Regulations:

- There is a Registrar scheduled exam for this course. Students must be available for examinations up to the last day of the examination period June 21-23, 2021.
- There are no extra-credit assignments.
- All assignments need not be completed in order to receive a passing grade.
- Email submissions will not be accepted. All assignments must be submitted via D2L Dropbox.

CONDUCT
Students, employees, and academic staff are also expected to demonstrate behaviour in class that promotes and maintains a positive and productive learning environment. As members of the University community, students, employees, and academic staff are expected to demonstrate conduct that is consistent with the University of Calgary Calendar, the Code of Conduct and Non-Academic Misconduct policy and procedures, which can be found at: http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html

USE OF INTERNET AND ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATION DEVICES IN CLASS
The use of laptop and mobile devices is acceptable when used in a manner appropriate to the course and classroom activities. Please refrain from accessing websites and resources that may be distracting to you or for other learners during class time. Students are responsible for being aware of the University's Internet and email use policy, which can be found at: https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/electronic-communications-policy.pdf

GUIDELINES FOR ZOOM SESSIONS

Zoom is a video conferencing program that will allow us to meet at specific times for a “live” video conference, so that we can have the opportunity to meet each other virtually and discuss relevant course topics as a learning community.

To help ensure Zoom sessions are private, do not share the Zoom link or password with others, or on any social media platforms. Zoom links and passwords are only intended for students registered in the course. Zoom recordings and materials presented in Zoom, including any teaching materials, must not be shared, distributed or published without the instructor’s permission.

The use of video conferencing programs relies on participants to act ethically, honestly and with integrity; and in accordance with the principles of fairness, good faith, and respect (as per the Code of Conduct). When entering Zoom or other video conferencing sessions (such as MS Teams), you play a role in helping create an effective, safe and respectful learning environment. Please be mindful of how your behaviour in these sessions may affect others. Participants are required to use names officially associated with their UCID (legal or preferred names listed in the Student Centre) when engaging in these activities. Instructors/moderators can remove those whose names do not appear on class rosters. Non-compliance may be investigated under relevant University of Calgary conduct policies (e.g. Student Non-Academic Misconduct Policy). If participants have difficulties complying with this requirement, they should email the instructor of the class explaining why, so the instructor may consider whether to grant an exception, and on what terms. For more information on how to get the most out of your zoom sessions visit: https://elearn.ucalgary.ca/guidelines-for-zoom/.

If you are unable to attend a Zoom session, please contact your instructor to arrange an alternative activity for the missed session (e.g., to review a recorded session). Please be prepared, as best as you are able, to join class in a quiet space that will allow you to be fully present and engaged in Zoom sessions. Students will be advised by their instructor when they are expected to turn on their webcam (for group work, presentations, etc.).
The instructor may record online Zoom class sessions for the purposes of supporting student learning in this class – such as making the recording available for review of the session or for students who miss a session. Students will be advised before the instructor initiates a recording of a Zoom session. These recordings will be used to support student learning only and will not be shared or used for any other purpose.

Please note that, according to the University Calendar (F.1) https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/f-1.html, instructors may use their discretion when rounding upwards or downwards when the average of term work and exams is between two letter grades.

Although the A+ is solely an honorific that entails no additional points in the four-point system, the course instructor will employ this mark to distinguish superlative work that exceeds expectations in style, correctness, intellectual depth and breadth, sophistication, and originality.

- The interpretation of the undergraduate university grading system can be found at https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/f-1-1.html
- There is no D- grade.

Plagiarism:

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possible suspension or expulsion from the university.

"Plagiarism" occurs when a Student presents the ideas, expression of ideas or work of another individual as the Student's own. Work may include algorithms, code, composition, data, methods, design, formulae, images, indigenous oral teachings, art and ceremonies, organization of ideas, and scientific and mathematical concepts.

Private information related to the individual student is treated with the utmost regard by the faculty at the University of Calgary.

COPYRIGHT LEGISLATION

Media recording for lesson capture
The instructor may use media recordings to capture the delivery of a lecture. These recordings are intended to be used for lecture capture only and will not be used for any other purpose. Although the recording device will be fixed on the Instructor, in the event that incidental student participation is recorded, the instructor will ensure that any identifiable content (video or audio) is masked, or will seek consent to include the identifiable student content to making the content available on University approved platforms.

Media recording for self-assessment of teaching practices
The instructor may use media recordings as a tool for self-assessment of their teaching practices. Although the recording device will be fixed on the instructor, it is possible that student participation in the course may be inadvertently captured. These recordings will be used for instructor self-assessment only and will not be used for any other purpose.

Media recording for the assessment of student learning
The instructor may use media recordings as part of the assessment of students. This may include but is not limited to classroom discussions, presentations, clinical practice, or skills testing that occur during the course. SEXUAL VIOLENCE POLICY
The University recognizes that all members of the University Community should be able to learn, work, teach and live in an environment where they are free from harassment, discrimination, and violence. The University of Calgary’s sexual violence policy guides us in how we respond to incidents of sexual violence, including supports available to those who have experienced or witnessed sexual violence, or those who are alleged to have committed sexual violence. It provides clear response procedures and timelines, defines complex concepts, and addresses incidents that occur off-campus in certain circumstances. Please see the policy available at https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/sexual-violence-policy.pdf

Your responses make a difference – please participate in USRI Surveys."

PLAGIARISM
Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:
1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:
   a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one’s own in an examination or test),
   b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
   c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student’s work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following websites:
http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/747/01/

Students who are absent from class assessments (tests, participation activities, or other assignments) should inform their instructors as soon as possible. Instructors may request that evidence in the form of documentation be provided. If the reason provided for the absence is acceptable, instructors may decide that any arrangements made can take forms other than make-up tests or assignments. For example, the weight of a missed grade may be added to another assignment or test. For information on possible forms of documentation, including statutory declarations, please see https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/m-1.html.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar

“The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, …, to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community’. The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a “positive and productive learning and working environment.” This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that “seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff”. Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
