FACULTY OF ARTS
DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH
COURSE SYLLABUS
ENGL 253.02
STUDIES IN GENRE: POETRY

Course Description

This course familiarizes students with poetic meter, rhyme, form, devices, and the history of poetry in English. It also introduces students to literary studies as an academic discipline on the university level. Through close reading, critical writing, scholarly research, and thoughtful discussion, students will develop the practical skills necessary in the discipline as well as skills that are valuable across the disciplines. This course has no pre-requisites.

Required Texts

Norton Anthology of Poetry, Sixth Edition

Recommended Texts

A good dictionary and thesaurus
A good grammar manual

Course Requirements

	Percentage of Final Grade
Essay (approx. 1,000 words).....	40%
Midterm Exam	20%
Registrar Final Exam	30%
Writing Exercises (approx. 2,000 words)	10%

About the Assignments

The essay requires research and a close reading of a selected poem. The essay will be graded with a letter (A-F). A separate document on D2L explains the grading criteria in more detail. Writing exercises include 6 or more in-class and out-of-class assignments designed to help you practice the major skills in the course. Writing exercises are due in a portfolio submitted in hard copy no later than the last day of class and evaluated on the basis of completeness and care. Some of the exercises will be described in assignments posted on D2L, while others will be announced in class only, so attendance is important for success on these exercises. No books are allowed at the final exam.

Grading System

You must complete the essay and both exams to qualify for a passing grade. Your final exam will be scheduled by the registrar. Students must be available for examinations up to the last day of the examination period, Dec. 19.

The University of Calgary's four-point Grading System, as described in the Calendar (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/f-2.html>), will be used in this course.

A+/A (4.0); A- (3.7); B+ (3.3); B (3.0); B- (2.7); C+ (2.3); C (2.0); C- (1.7); D+ (1.3); D (1.0); F (0)

Please note that, according to the University Calendar (F.1), instructors may use their discretion when rounding upwards or downwards when the average of term work and exams is between two letter grades.

Although the A+ is solely an honorific that entails no additional points in the four-point system, the course instructor will employ this mark to distinguish superlative work that exceeds expectations in style, correctness, intellectual depth and breadth, sophistication, and originality.

Late Assignments

Assignments may not be submitted late without prior permission. If a legitimate emergency (illness, death in the family, etc.) prevents you from submitting an assignment on time or getting prior permission for an extension, you must provide supporting documentation and contact Dr. Clarke as soon as possible to discuss alternative arrangements. Assignments submitted late without permission or documentation of emergency will be penalized a third of a grade for each late day (e.g., an A paper that is one day late will receive an A-, two days late a B+, and so on; weekend days and holidays are counted in this total).

Turning in Assignments

Essays should be submitted through the digital dropbox on D2L. Writing exercises should be submitted as a portfolio (do not submit writing exercises individually) in hard copy no later than the last day of class. If these submission methods are not possible, you may deliver assignments in hard copy to Social Sciences 1152 and put them in the drop box, where your work will be date-stamped and placed in Dr. Clarke's mailbox. Please keep a copy of your assignment in case of loss. Assignments cannot be returned by staff in the department office. Assignments may not be delivered by email without prior permission.

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:
 - a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
 - b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
 - c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,

- d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

<http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/747/01/>

Students who are absent from class assessments (tests, participation activities, or other assignments) should inform their instructors as soon as possible. Instructors may request that evidence in the form of documentation be provided. If the reason provided for the absence is acceptable, instructors may decide that any arrangements made can take forms other than make-up tests or assignments. For example, the weight of a missed grade may be added to another assignment or test. For information on possible forms of documentation, including statutory declarations, please see <https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/m-1.html>.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar; <https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-2.html>

“The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, . . . , to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community”. The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a “positive and productive learning and working environment.” This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that “seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff”. Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
