Course description:

ENGL 307 is an historical survey of literature in English from 1700 to the present time.

Texts and readings:

The Broadview Anthology of British Literature (One Volume Compact Edition)
Charlotte Brontë, Jane Eyre, Broadview
Links to additional assigned Poetry will be available on D2L

Assignments and Evaluation:

- Reading Prompt Miscellany (6 prompts @ 3 pp. each): 6 x 10% = 60%
- Participation (Reading quizzes and Assignments): 10%
- Registrar-scheduled final exam: 30%

Please note that Students must be available for examinations up to the last day of the examination period April 18-29, 2020. https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/academic-schedule.html
Participation:

Throughout the course, students will have ten opportunities to complete participation activities in the seminar portion of this course. These participation activities may include reading quizzes based on the assigned readings. Participation activities may take place at any time during the tutorial; no make-up tasks will be administered. These are credit/no credit assignments. Satisfactory completion is required for credit and threshold grades will be identified in the case of reading quizzes to establish the basis of satisfactory completion (e.g. 3/5 to receive credit). Grades for this course component will be allocated based on the following scheme:

1. Satisfactorily complete 9-10 for an A on this course component.
2. Satisfactorily complete 7-8 for a B on this course component.
3. Satisfactorily complete 6 for a C on this course component.
4. Satisfactorily complete 5 for a D on this course component.
5. Students completing fewer than 5 participation activities will receive an F on this course component.

Additional Regulations:

- There are no extra credit assignments for this course.
- Students must sit (but not necessarily pass) the final exam to qualify for a passing grade in this class.
- Late assignments may be penalized one third of a letter grade for each business day late (e.g. A+ becomes an A). Late assignments may not be accepted after three days without the previous permission of the instructor.
- All assignments must be uploaded to the appropriate D2L Dropbox in the format and at the time specified. No email submissions will be accepted as a substitute.

Grading system:

In this course, all essays and assignments will be marked with a letter grade. For calculation purposes, letter grades will be converted to a percentage using the department’s standardized conversion scale. Typically, the midpoint of the respective scale is used for whole grades (i.e. A is calculated at 87%); in the case of split grades the midpoint of the two ranges is used (i.e. A-/B+ is calculated at 80%).

Please note that, according to the University Calendar (F.1) https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/f-1.html, instructors may use their discretion when rounding upwards or downwards when the average of term work and exams is between two letter grades.
Although the A+ is solely an honorific that entails no additional points in the four-point system, the course instructor will employ this mark to distinguish superlative work that exceeds expectations in style, correctness, intellectual depth and breadth, sophistication, and originality.

Reaching Us:

Academics are usually best reached by email. Students can expect to receive replies to email enquiries from course instructors within 24 hours during the business week and 48 hours over the weekend. Please note that your instructors may not respond to email after 5 p.m. or on the weekend. I also cannot guarantee that you will receive email replies within 48 hours of assignment due dates. Students should remember, also, that email is not a substitute for attending class or using regular office hours. Missed assignments will not be sent over email, nor should email be used to ask questions otherwise answered in class or on the course outline. Students are responsible for gathering their own notes on missed classes. Missed lectures or seminar will not be summarized by email. If you have not received a response to your email within the timelines specified above, consider whether your message lacks a clear question or the polish and politeness of a professional letter. If it passes muster, please don’t be shy about sending it again.

Classroom Etiquette Notes:

☞ We all have busy and social lives. For the duration of class, however, your social and intellectual life should exist solely in the classroom. All electronic devices should be turned to silent as a courtesy both to the instructor and your peers. Laptops may be used to take notes, but students should refrain from playing games, surfing, or updating social media while in class. If you have special circumstances that require you to monitor your phone in silent mode, please notify the instructor and excuse yourself from the classroom when you have to take calls or respond to texts.

☞ This course is scheduled for one hour and fifteen minutes twice a week. Please schedule appointments and work shifts outside of class hours.

☞ Video and/or audio recording of lecture or discussion is prohibited without the permission of the instructor. Visual material from lecture will not posted or otherwise distributed.

☞ Our goal is to create an intellectually stimulating classroom where all people feel respected and safe to test new ideas. Our expectation is for students to interact collegially, with kindness, and in the spirit of mutual curiosity. That said, course instructors will put a pause on conversation if, at any time, the discussion is becoming uncivil, offensive, harmful, or substantively off topic. If you have concerns about the classroom environment please make an appointment with your seminar leader and/or the course instructor. Students who have preferred names or forms of address (including non-gendered pronouns) are welcome to bring this to the attention of the instructor(s).

PLAGIARISM
Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:
1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:
   a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
   b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
   c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
   d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student’s work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:
http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/747/01/

Students who are absent from class assessments (tests, participation activities, or other assignments) should inform their instructors as soon as possible. Instructors may request that evidence in the form of documentation be provided. If the reason provided for the absence is acceptable, instructors may decide that any arrangements made can take forms other than make-up tests or assignments. For example, the weight of a missed grade may be added to another assignment or test. For information on possible forms of documentation, including statutory declarations, please see https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/m-1.html.
DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar; https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-2.html
“The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, …, to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community”. The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a “positive and productive learning and working environment.” This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that “seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff”. Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
