Course description: No prerequisites. This course will introduce the scholarly study of comic books and graphic novels, with a particular focus on the formal elements that differentiate comics from other forms of literature (poetry, prose), and the history of the comic book format as it has evolved in the United States from the 1930s to today.

Texts and readings:

Alan Moore and Dave Gibbons. Watchmen. (DC Comics, 1986)

Daniel Clowes. The Death Ray. (Drawn and Quarterly, 2011)

Joe Sacco. Safe Area Gorazde. (Fantagraphics, 2002).

Alison Bechdel. Fun Home: A Family Tragicomic (Wadsworth, 2007)

All of the above are required for this course, and are available in the bookstore.

Assignments and Evaluation:

Annotation Project #1 (October 5, 2017). Pick a page that you find interesting in a comic book and trace it. Do not attempt to recreate the original page, but attempt to distill its main features in a simplified drawing. If text appears on the page you should trace the captions or balloons, but do not fill in the text. When this is complete, annotate the page that you have created in the empty spaces (balloons, captions, gutters) in order to highlight the important features. You might consider: colour, shading, line styles, shapes, sizes, angles, placement, perspective, framing, layering, blocking. Consider the relationship between elements and the overall layout. Please provide a photocopy of the original page with your tracing. You might consider photocopying your tracing before annotating it as this will allow you to make corrections. This assignment is worth 10% of the final grade in this course.

Midterm Exam (October 12, 2017). The first mid-term examination will take place in class on February 24, 2014. This exam will cover all of the readings and lecture material from the first five weeks of the term. The exam will be a mixed format, incorporating short and long answers. Please note that material may be presented on slides may be presented as part of this exam. This exam is worth 20% of the final grade in this course.

Annotation Project #2 (October 26, 2017). The same as the first annotation project, but using a different page FROM THE SAME WORK. Ideally, you will choose a page that evinces a strong contrast with the first page. This assignment is worth 10% of the final grade in this course.

Synthesis Essay (November 23, 2017). This paper should be five or six pages in length (1,500 – 1,800 words). This paper should reflect upon your process in creating the two tracings. What did you leave out, and why? What did you include, and why? What did your tracings reveal about the book that you chose? How does the art contribute to the overall operation of the work as a whole? This assignment is worth 30% of the final grade in this course.

Registrar-scheduled final exam. The final examination will be scheduled by the registrar. This exam will cover all of the readings and lecture material from the entirety of the course. The exam will be a mixed format, incorporating short and long answers. The exam will include at least one essay question. Please note that material may be presented on slides may be presented as part of this exam. This exam is worth 30% of the final grade in this course.

There will be a registrar-scheduled final exam in this course. The exam period this term runs from April 19 to 30, and students must be available for examinations up to the last day of the examination period. There will be no extra-credit assignments in this course. Students must complete all assignments in order to receive a passing grade on the course. Assignments submitted after the deadline has passed will be penalized with the loss of a third of a grade (on A- to a B+) for each business day that the assignment is overdue.

Please make every effort to take assignments directly to the instructor. If it is not possible to do so, take your assignment to SS 1152 and put it in the dropbox. Your assignment will be date-stamped and placed in the instructor's mailbox. It is your responsibility to keep a copy of all assignments in case of loss by any cause. Assignments cannot be returned by staff in the Department office.

Although the A+ is solely an honorific that entails no additional points in the 4-point system, the course instructor will employ this mark to distinguish superlative work that exceeds expectations in style, correctness, intellectual depth and breadth, sophistication, and originality.

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:
   (a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
   (b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
   (c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
   (d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student’s work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar, (http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/j.html) “The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, …, to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community”. The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a “positive and productive learning and working environment.” This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that “seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff”. Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
